$6.75 Dressing $3.49

Of Best French Flannel with Silk Borders 30 30

COMMERCIAL courtesy forbids our naming the source of this remarkable bargain or your interest would be doubled.

Suffice to say that a fashionable shirtwaist manufacturer imported far too much French Flannel. His rather exclusive clientele divided favor with some of the new worsted weaves, and the pretty new flannels too often remained uncut on his To retail the surplus at a reduced price would but lemoralize the trade already in sight. Our garment buyer suggested that he make dressing sacques—at a bargain price, of course. This lot at about half the regular quotation is the outcome. Don't expect another such opportunity; it is not likely to recur this year.

Dressing Sacques, of best French flannel, in Roman stripes, Dresden printings, etc., newly made in prevailing styles and prettily finished with harmonized silk borders; materials alone would cost you as much or more.

The Last Half Hundred of that New York manufacturer's Cloth page will find owners beginning to-morrow. If you haven't profited by sale, make a point of coming. Prices $7.75. $9.75 and $11.75
